

FIVE SLAYERS MEET DEATH ON GALLOWS

FOUR MEN DIE FOR KILLING OF GUELZOW AND NEGRO MEETS FATE FOR MILLER MURDER.

VAIN EFFORT TO SAVE

Attorneys and Friends for Five Men Seek Stay of Execution But Judges Fail to Issue Writ.

Chicago, Feb. 16.—Four murderers were hanged in the county jail today while counsel were vainly trying to secure a stay order on the ground that the condemned men were insane. The men were Frank Shilbawski, Edward Shilbawski, his brother, Phillip Sommerling and Thomas Shultz, slayers of Fred W. Buelzow, Jr., a truck farmer who was held up and murdered in cold blood while he was returning to his home in the outskirts of the city last October.

Jailer Is Summoned.

The Shilbawski brothers were the first to mark the scaffold and the drop had scarcely fallen when a bailiff from the superior court rushed into the jail office and summoned Jailer Devine to appear before Judge McKinley.

The command was not obeyed and instead Chief Deputy Sheriff Peters telephoned to the judge that two of the men had been hanged and that the execution would proceed unless a formal writ prevented.

No writ was issued and Sommerling and Schultz followed their companions in crime on the gallows.

State Requests Delay.

Representatives of the state's attorney office requested the attempt to delay the execution and told Judge McKinley that the petitions alleging insanity, which under the law is a bar to execution, was presented for the purpose of delay. This was hotly denied by counsel for the condemned men and a wordy altercation occupied the minutes in which the four were being prepared for the gallows.

Judge McKinley declined to permit the petition to be filed until it had been read.

Sought for Stay.

The prosecutors insisted that the petition which was signed by Rev. Father Han Kohnke was not in accord with the facts. Counsel for Thomas Jennings, colored, the fifth murderer sentenced to die today, while the executions of the four murderers were occurring, were arguing before United States district Judge Landis that the rights of their client had been invaded by the introduction of finger-print evidence in seeking to convict him of the murder of Clarence Miller railway official, whose home Jennings sought to rob.

Negro Is Hanged.

Arguments on the writ of habeas corpus was made before Judge Landis. Jennings' counsel declared the finger print evidence was inadmissible because Jennings had been compelled to give the prints while he was in jail. After the usual formalities that bodies were given to representatives of the family for burial.

Thomas Jennings, colored, the last of the five condemned men was hanged at 12:15 p. m.

Make Final Efforts.

Five men condemned to be hanged for murder in the county jail here this morning, made final efforts through lawyers and friends to escape the gallows. The time for the execution had been set for 10 a. m. and two p. m. Court proceedings in behalf of the murderers of Fred Guelzow the truck gardener were scheduled in the superior court at Springfield and in the superior court here.

Plea for Jennings.

Judge Landis in the United States district court was prepared to hear the plea of lawyers for habeas corpus to save the life of Thos. Jennings, the negro convicted of the murder of Clarence Miller, a railway clerk. In this case the lawyers urged that the finger print evidence which was most damaging was regularly obtained in as much as the man was compelled to practically give evidence against himself.

Two Get Sentences.

The condemned men, Thos. Edward Schilbawski 24 years old, Thos. Schultz 19 years old, Phillip Sommerling 35 years old, Frank Schilbawski 25 years old, Thos. Jennings, colored, 32 years old. Two others were engaged in the murder of Fred Guelzow with the four men condemned to be hanged. They probably secured the sentence of their fellow on account of their youth. Both were sentenced to the penitentiary for life. They were Patrick and Leo Schuchnauki, each sixteen years old.

Was Brutal Murder.

The men murdered Guelzow on his northwest side while he was on his way to market with a load of garden truck. Guelzow who had been married a little over a year, pleaded with his assailants to take his money but to spare his life for the sake of his wife and month old baby. Instead his slayers attacked him with clubs, knives and revolvers. After the he killed him they mutilated his body. They were arrested while trying to sell Guelzow's horse. The crime was committed Oct. 20, 1911.

He insisted that the federal government had the power to determine what corporations should engage in interstate commerce.

The Williams bill prescribes the conditions under which corporations may engage in interstate commerce.

War Department Probe.

A congressional investigation of the War Department probably by a house committee appeared today to be a certain outcome of the Alnoworth-Wood line and staff controversy which resulted yesterday in the relief from duty of adjutant general F. S. Alnoworth.

Friends of General Alnoworth in the house were said today to be preparing the resolution of investigation and it was said an effort would be made to have the scope of the inquiry so wide as to include an inquiry into the administration of affairs in Cuba at the time general Leonard Wood, now chief of staff of the army, was military governor of the island.

Better Attacks Army.

The house today resumed consideration of the army appropriation bill. Representative Burger of Wisconsin, attacked the policy of an extensive standing army declaring it to be a "standing preparation for war". He insisted the United States needed no standing army for purposes of defense.

Texas alone he said could whip Mexico in the event of an attack.

If the Canadians should try to attack as I believe New York could do the job. Mr. Burger declared the government was spending $400,000,000 for militarism and less than half of that sum for the entire public school system.

Seven witnesses were called to the stand, among them the Rev. Johnson, Chief of Police Appleby, and Poor master Anderson. The others were neighbors of the Lien family. Mr. Anderson testified that he visited the home last Tuesday and that he found the family living in a very squalid condition. The fire was out in the kitchen stove the floors were filthy, and garments were scattered hither and yon. The mother was partly drunk, and the father was very angry.

The family would have been turned out of the house by March 1 because of failure to make payments.

Rev. Johnson declared that the parents were unable to support the minor children and that the older ones had contributed indirectly to the support of the parents. Both Mr. and Mrs. Lien were addicted to liquor.

The minor children number four and are from nine to seventeen years of age. Two of them have been of forced home.

LETTERS REVEALING BIG DYNAMITE PLOT TO AID CONVICTION

Correspondence Quoted in Indictments Implicates All Officials of Iron Workers' Organization.

Indianapolis, Ind., Feb. 16.—New disclosures made in the dynamite conspiracy cases through forty thousand letters and telegrams quoted in the indictments and implicates practically all of the officials of the International Association of Bridge and Structural Iron Workers were to be the books. It was stated today, upon which the government will seek to convict the fifty-four defendants who are charged with committing and abetting in almost one hundred explosions.

Vast Plot Planned.

The correspondence contained in all the forty-two indictments and embracing what are termed "Unconsummated acts of conspiracy," is held as showing that a vast plot, known to, and furthered by Frank M. Ryan, president of the International Association of Iron Workers and members of the executive board; and to many business agents, was carried on for six years to destroy the property of steel and iron contractors who employed non-union labor.

It charges all the defendants with being equal as abettors. It also proposes to reveal evidence that "Johns" accepted, the price to be paid through the mail to designate some place that was to be blown up and then gradually the officials of local unions began to call on the International headquarters in Indianapolis to assist by dynamite and nitroglycerine in increasing the expense of open shop contractors.

"Dynamiting Trio."

Orville E. McManical and Herbert Hacking, second vice president, and James B. McNamara, became, it is charged, an organized "dynamiting trio." Letters are included to show regular offers to McManical and the cost of doing local "jobs" frequently was discussed in letters.

A letter from Orin A. Twilome, local union leader in San Francisco, to J. J. McNamara of Indianapolis, after the Los Angeles Times disaster stating the "Times" of Santa Clara would be as kind and generous to you with surprises," is quoted to show that the conspiracy spread from Boston to the Pacific coast.

Charges are Made.

Four more indictments, not yet made public, supplement the principal indictments contained in the correspondence. These indictments name all the fifty-six defendants who are implicated in illegal conspiracy and make these charges:

"That on thirty-four counts all the defendants are guilty as principals in illegal transportation of dynamite, and that on thirty-four counts McManical, John J. McNamara, James B. McNamara, and Hacking, are guilty of illegally transporting dynamite, and all the other defendants are guilty of aiding and abetting them."

Sixteen Counts.

That on sixteen counts all the defendants are guilty as principals in the illegal transportation of nitroglycerine.

That on sixteen counts McManical, John J. McNamara, James B. McNamara and Hacking are guilty of illegal transportation of nitroglycerine, and all other defendants are guilty of aiding and abetting them.

Refuses a Hearing.

DEMOCRATS OF COUNTY SELECT NO FAVORITES

Closed Meeting Yesterday Without Endorsing Any Candidate—Effect Working Organization.

The Rock county democratic committee closed its meeting yesterday without expressing its endorsement of any candidate for the democratic presidential nomination. This occasioned some disappointment among the more zealous promoters of personal booms, but it was thought best in the interest of party solidarity and integrity to suppress them at this time.

The principal object of the meeting, however, was satisfactorily accomplished: a party organization was perfected to carry on its campaign in every township in the county. Committee members were named for each precinct the appointments being made by the members of the county committee residing therein, who is ex-officio chairman of the committee. These will number about 225 in all.

Two vacancies in the county committee were filled during the executive session which followed the speeches and plans were branched for a banquet of Rock county democrats to which prominent members were also made to the county chairman for the defraying of organization expenses. The adjourned meeting will be held March 14 and it is hoped to have better success in securing speakers from outside the county.

Great satisfaction was expressed by the leaders of the democratic party over the excellent attendance and spirit of optimism, harmony and enthusiasm, manifested at the meeting yesterday afternoon. Speeches were made by A. Moehling of Clinton, Mat. Lewis of Beloit, Attorney John H. Clark of the same city, George Sutherland and Claude J. Hendricks of this city.

Mr. Sutherland confined his remarks principally to a denunciation of the Republican administration in Wisconsin, and presented numerous illustrations of what he termed gross extravagance in the expenditures of public funds. Especially obnoxious were the creation of needless commissions and positions serving as berths for political boozers and the building up of a powerful political machine. Mr. Sutherland declared he knew that high salaried state employees were giving considerable time to electioneering in doubtful sections. The University also came in for its share of criticism, notably the purchase of a large tract of land, for its use at $1500 an acre.

Contrasted with Republican extravagance was the policy of the democratic party and its possession of a number of men of good presidential caliber. With such a situation confronting them all that was needed to insure success was effective organization, deliberation and caution in the selection of nominees.

Attorney C. J. Hendricks, when called upon for a talk, proposed the name of George G. Sutherland as candidate for governor. His proposal was greeted with cheers and hearty applause, but Mr. Sutherland, in responding declared that his business interests made it impossible for him to consider acceptance of the nomination if tendered.

Although presidential booms were kept under cover at yesterday's meeting, there was present there Mr. A. A. Allen, who is conducting the Harmon campaign in Wisconsin. He expressed the stand of the Harmon forces on the question of the manner of selecting delegates, pleading that the men chosen be the strongest members of the party that could be selected. Mr. Allen declared that he would be willing to have the delegates go to the convention unpledged to any candidate.

A JANESVILLE MAN QUOTED IN PRINT

D. H. Baldwin Resents the Report that He Was Not a Prisoner in Andersonville During Civil War.

It appears that some days ago Captain David James of Highland Center, stated he knew of only four former Andersonville prisoners of war living in Wisconsin. D. H. Baldwin of this city has answered the charge and his letter to Captain James is published below. Mr. Baldwin served with Troop 1 of the 14th Illinois cavalry and his letter is as follows: "There are two Andersonville prisoners in this part and I am one of them and I was there seven months, and in all that time had no blanket, shoes and nothing to cook my corn meal in, only as I borrowed from other comrades and then had to pay a toll for the use of them. Then there is A. D. Burdett from Milton, who was in then and one Johnson, I think from Monroe, and another at Mineral Point that I know of. I think if a census was taken we would have forty or fifty instead of four. Mr. James must not think for a moment that all the prisoners of Andersonville are dead. They learned the trick of being active while engaged at Andersonville in picking graybacks and they are full of that activity yet. I don't mean picking G. Backs, but in keeping alive. I trust you will give this in the Free Press and let people see we are not all dead yet and if this Mr. James wants to cross swords with me I am willing to do so. I was in the cavalry so I think I have the advantage."

OBITUARY.

Mrs. Harriet Antisdal (Harriet Antisdal, who passed away Wednesday, Feb. 14, at the home of her son, A. William Antisdal at Fostoria, Iowa, arrived in this city today and funeral services were conducted at the Oak Hill chapel by the Rev. J. C. Hazen at two o'clock this afternoon. The pall bearers were: O. D. Antisdal, a nephew, and Roy Jay and Ernest Antisdal, grandsons of the deceased.

Harriet Novell was born at Bradford, Pa., Oct. 12, 1824. Some years later she moved to Wisconsin with her family and on May 23, 1848 she was united in marriage to Clark G. Antisdal. Mr. and Mrs. Antisdal made their home on a farm near Afton where they lived for many years. Mr. Antisdal passed away Feb. 10, 1901 and afterwards Mrs. Antisdal made her home with her daughter, Mrs. W. J. Miller, who died April 5, 1905. In the summer of 1907 she moved to Iowa, to live with her son. Mrs. Antisdal suffered a stroke of paralysis in Oct. 1910 and on Dec. 25, 1911, she was taken suddenly worse and rapidly failed until the end Wednesday.

She leaves to mourn her loss two sons, A. William Antisdal of Fostoria, Iowa, and George C. Antisdal of Afton, Wis., four children having gone before. Lillian and Jennie dying in childhood, Charles and Hattie in later years. She also leaves 21 grandchildren, and six great-grandchildren, and two aged brothers.

She was a faithful wife, a devoted and loving mother and a true friend. She was a charter member of the Afton Baptist church, and her name is still on the old church record. A good woman has passed from this life, and a heritage of her example and memory is left to her descendants and those who knew her.

Two Hundred Couple Enjoy Mask Ball Given in Assembly Hall.

There was a large attendance at the mask ball given by the Grocers' Clerks of the city at Assembly hall last evening. Two hundred couple enjoyed the affair and danced to the delightful program of music furnished by Knoff's seven-piece orchestra. The masks and costumes were original and in gaudy in many cases and added much to the merriment of the party. Edward Sartell, an aged farmer hunting for his lost cow, was awarded the single man's prize and Mr. and Mrs. Sprout were awarded the honors for the best appearing couple.

RECENT WRECK LOSS IS REPORTED HEAVY

Damage to the St. Paul Freight Train Estimated at Ten to Twelve Thousand Dollars.

That the total damage occasioned by the freight wreck on the St. Paul road Wednesday will amount to between $10,000 and $12,000, is the statement made today by railroad officials who have investigated the matter.

It was at first thought that most of the eighteen cars that left the track were "completes" but it has now been discovered that all but four of them were loaded, the greater number with farm implements. This machinery is badly smashed and is practically a total loss.

Traffic over the division, which was suspended all day Wednesday, was resumed the next morning, as usual, although there will still be a few cars to be picked up. It was learned that the wreck was caused when about two feet of flange broke off a car wheel while the train was running rapidly.

HARVARD MEN ARE JAILED FOR BECOMING INTOXICATED

Judd Davis Sentenced for Six Days and Anton P. Waters for Five—Found at Five Points.

Judd Davis and Anton P. Waters, both of Harvard, were sentenced to jail terms this morning by Judge F. Field after pleading guilty to being found in a state of intoxication at the Five Points last evening. Neither were able to pay their fines, which were respectively, $1.00 and $2.00 with costs. Davis admitted being brought into court here on a similar charge two or three years ago. Waters said he had worked for a telephone company here for a time.

NEW YORK TRUST COMPANY IS REPORTED IN TROUBLE

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.] Albany, N. Y., Feb. 10.—Supt. Van Tilt of the state banking department announced today that he has taken possession of the property and business of the Universal Trust Company, of 349 Broadway, New York City. This action, he said, was the result of recent investigations of the affairs of a few of the savings and loans associations of the state, "whose condition from past mismanagement or ill fortune was a cause for concern."

"Temperance Day" in Alabama Montgomery, Ala., Feb. 10.—In all the public schools in Alabama today was observed "Temperance Day," special exercises being held with a view to impressing upon the minds of the pupils the evils of intemperance. The observance of the day is required by law, an act to that effect having been passed by the legislature two years ago.

CASCARETS CLEANSE LIVER AND BOWELS

No Biliousness, Headache, Sick, Sour Stomach, Indigestion, Coated Tongue or Constipation.

Purged Tongue, Bad Taste, Indigestion, Sallow Skin and Unpleasant Features come from a torpid liver and clogged bowels, which cause your stomach to become filled with undigested food, which poisons and ferments like garbage in a swill barrel. That's the first step to untold misery—indigestion, foul gases, bad breath, yellow skin, mental fears, everything that is horrible and nauseating. A Cascaret tonight will give you a thorough cleansing inside and straighten you out by morning. They work while you sleep—a 10-cent box from your druggist will keep you feeling good for months. Millions of men and women take a Cascaret now and then to keep their stomach, liver and bowels regulated. Don't forget the children—laid, and never know a miserable mother little babies need a good, gentle cleansing, too.

GETS TWENTY DAYS FOR THEFT OF CIGARS

Harry Acker, Bell-boy at Grand Hotel, Pleads Guilty to Charge of Larceny This Morning.

Harry Acker who has been employed for some time as bell-boy at the Grand Hotel, pleaded guilty before Judge Field this morning to stealing a box of cigars from his employer. The theft was committed yesterday. Acker was sentenced to twenty days imprisonment in the county jail, a light sentence in view of the permissible penalty of six months. It is his first offense and for that reason the court was lenient.

The convicted young man came here from Marion, Indiana, and had worked there and in Grand Rapids, Michigan. He has been making his home with a brother in this city. Rather than take the sentence imposed Acker promised to leave town permanently, but Judge Field informed him that he could not grant that favor.

(No. 8)
Most people take a proper pride in their personal appearance. They need not dress a lot to do this, but they do want to see that what they wear is put on straight. Men may say that condition is confined to women but as a matter of fact successful men are just as particular about their appearance as are women.

Most people dress in their bedrooms. For that reason bedchamber lighting is a very important feature of house illumination. For the same reason Reflex Lamps should be—and generally are by discriminating people—chosen for that room. The light is thrown on the mirror not up on the ceiling; it is where you are.

Of course, the economical feature of Incandescent Gas Lamps is also very attractive because THAT is the least expensive good light one can get. Therefore,

GOVERNMENT OWNERSHIP.

In a recent issue of the Montgomery Advertiser the following editorial appears in which the idea of government ownership is taken severely to task and incidentally the attitude of Postmaster General Hitchcock in advocating the federal ownership of telegraph companies. The Advertiser discusses the subject as follows:

"Out of the wide discussion of Postmaster General Frank Hitchcock's announced endorsement of the acquisition and operation by the government of the telegraph lines, there looms one central fact—the Parcel Post is but the entering wedge of public utilities. If we are to fight a dictatorship of our government to paternalism the time to do it is now.

"We first had the agitation for the Parcel Post, financed by the interests, which would be benefited by the commercial destruction of the small merchant. Impressed by the loud claims of the Parcel Post agitators, the politicians in office seized upon it as political capital, and it was endorsed by postoffice authorities. Not even a brief halt was had here; the Postmaster General came out strongly for the government owning and operating the telegraph lines of the country. Does any sensible man believe that a step will be made will be made after the company takes over the express companies and the telegraph lines? The Postmaster General admits that the logical step will be the acquisition of all the telephone lines of the country. If the government is paternalistic enough to own and run express companies, telephone and telegraph lines, it would be paternalistic enough to take over the railroads and run them as branches of the government services.

"Every argument used in favor of the purchase by the government of the property of the express companies and the operation of their business by the government can be as logically used for the purchase and operation of the railroad companies. Are we ready to turn our back on the methods of government, and our methods of business which have made the development and the prosperity of our country without parallel in the history of the world? The Parcel Post is the entering wedge for government ownership; are we going to allow its entry, to be inevitably followed by the ownership of our public utilities by the government?

"Leading business men say that the Postoffice department is 'the worst managed corporation in the country.' Postmaster General Hitchcock claims that he has for the first time, wiped out the annual deficit of the Postoffice department, but his claim that the old historic deficit is no longer in existence will have to wait a while before it is fully admitted. If the Postoffice department has to have a great annual deficit, how large will the deficit be from the Parcel Post after the government is in full charge? What will be the annual deficit from the operation of the telephone and telegraph lines? What will be the annual deficit from the operation of the telephone lines, once the government saddles the taxpayer with them? And railroad ownership is as certain to follow these other paternalistic theories, once they are adopted, as night follows the day. What will be the annual deficit from the operation of the railroads?

"There is only one way for the government to pay a deficit; wring the money from the taxpayer. Those who are permitted to labor in private pursuits, after the government owns all public utilities, the men who manage to amass a little property will be assessed to pay the deficits from the government owned utilities.

"Government ownership means dry rot. It means choking off initiative and private energy. If any man doubts this let him read the story of government owned utilities, now operated by paternalistic government in Europe. If he doubts this let him study the 'dry rot' of the Postoffice department. Individual effort and individual enterprise have built our greatness. Are we ready to repudiate our success to go into a state of industrial dry rot?"

HAMMER AND TONGS.

It is now a war of hammer and tongs; not more Tong's like the Chinese, but with the ever ready hammer, that the Taft and anti-Taft and La Follette republicans are waging.

Senator Cummings is in the background and after his conference with Roosevelt may possibly decide to withdraw from the race entirely. In fact, he has so intimated. Meanwhile the anti-Taft leaders are seeking every excuse to denounce the President and the La Follette men are taking cracks at Roosevelt for breach of promise to keep out of the race. The Taft men are planning for strenuous campaigns in all states and capturing not a few delegates to start with. It is a game of "Beat Taft if possible," and the action of the third congressional district republicans at Madison yesterday in endorsing the President shows that Wisconsin is going to be a battleground that is at least debatable.

COUNTY DEMOCRACY.

Rock county democrats met Thursday and discussed the situation and plans for organization. The mention of the name of George C. Sutherland as a possibility for the democratic nomination for governor, brought forth loud applause. It is a sign of life when the democrats can get together, hold an afternoon session with a fair representation and depart with out some serious, radical "scholar" being introduced. While Mr. Sutherland refused to permit his name to be used in connection with the gubernatorial nomination still it is talked of all over the state and strong pressure is being brought to bear upon the Janesville man to secure his consent to allow his name to be used. It is an honor to the city to have one of its citizens brought into this prominence and it would be an honor to the democratic party as a whole could Mr. Sutherland be persuaded to permit his name to be used.

There is another scandal in Washington. This time it is in the war department and the dismissal of the adjutant general of the army has caused all sorts of a commotion.

The Texas judge that fined himself for whipping a man in his court room for calling him a liar had a sense of humor to say the least.

Blackfoot Indians in Montana are holding a grass dance in the belief that spring is coming. Evidently they saw a robin or two.

King George should not be criticized because his speech to parliament was colorless. He did not write it.

China now has an opportunity to use its fireworks that it invented some hundreds of years ago on its own independence day.

Canada is naming a committee to discover just what it lost by refusing the reciprocity treaty with Uncle Sam.

Have you stopped to consider that no one has joined the Annals club for several months past?

This country is so large that Arizona became a state without crowding anyone at all.

Anything that resembles the first cousin of a February thaw is most welcome.

February may need that extra day to do a little thawing in.

ANSWERS TO CORRESPONDENTS.

Discouraged Reader: We think that you require too much to make you happy. What if you are getting only $40 a week? You can have fresh meat once a week and can take in a dollar excursion once in a while. Don't give up so easily. We have heard of people who are getting along on a smaller salary than yours.

Sutor: You say your father frowns upon your suit. Well, then, when you call keep your overcoat on.

Gardener: You ask us what, in our opinion, are best paying plants and we reply immediately that we think the electric light and gas plants are.

TO GET IT OVER.

"Maude," asked the doctor anxiously, "May I call upon you Monday evening?"

"Impossible," she replied quietly. "I must go to a bridge party that night."

"How about Tuesday evening?"

"Well, Wednesday evening then."

"I have got to take mother to the theatre that evening."

"Thursday night, then surely?"

"I shall be out of town that evening."

"Well, then, shall I call it Friday night?"

"Let me see. Oh, no not Friday evening, I take my singing lessons Friday evening."

"Saturday evening then, Maude?"

"Um-um-um," she faltered, "Um-um-um, gee whizz, come Monday evening."

PERHAPS

He got aboard the car and chose an isolated place And guarded well the basket that he held upon his knees. Regarding with suspicion every new arrival's face And grew extremely nervous when the crowd began to squeeze. He held his treasure closely, watching over it with care. It was not a bunch of jewels or a kingly ransom quite. And he was not envious of stocks and bonds so rare. But he was only taking home a peck of furnace anthracite.

PRESS COMMENT

Worthy Work Done. Evening Wisconsin: The influence of the federal authorities in following up clues leading from the grand jury rooms in Indianapolis to persons in various parts of the United States implicated in the dynamite outrages penetrated in the name of labor, is worthy of high praise. Laboring men as a class are not criminals, and do not sympathize with murderers and dynamiters when the latter happen to be identified with labor. Energetic prosecution of all cases of murder, arson and dynamiting is in the interests of good citizenship and good citizenship heartily applauds it.

Important Insignia.

Shelbygan Journal: President Taft declares that from now on he will devote himself to showing up hypocrites and liars. He has a large map of Oyster Bay and a picture showing an old fashioned way of wearing men's hair straight up and back from the forehead, hung in his office to aid his thought.

One Up His Sleeve.

Beloit News: We shouldn't be surprised if Senator La Follette sprung a big surprise on somebody yet. We don't know what it will be, but we have a feeling something is due from the senator. We never saw the time when the senator didn't have another card left that he could play.

Slow To Let Go.

Oshkosh Northwestern: In some parts of the country it is claimed the retail dealers have entirely overlooked that drop in the price of butter announced by the High board. They were fast enough to follow the High price, however, when it was on the upgrade.

Heart to Heart Talks.

By EDWIN A. NYE.

COULD THEY FORGET?

A correspondent wants to know why, in my opinion, California voted to give her women the ballot.

There are doubtless various reasons, but this is one: California owes women much, and she was not ungallant enough, when reminded of her obligation, to forget it.

The story of the plainsman and the plainswoman is a story of glory and tragedy in which the man got most of the glory and the woman most of the tragedy.

When the news of gold came to the "forty-niner" he hitched up his pants and started on the Santa Fe trail. Often, under the canvas cover, on the seat by his side, was a woman—sometimes with a babe in her arms.

And she? Leaving every friend on earth behind and sharing alike with her man—if she lived—she heard in the years the story of his heroism. It was the man who made the desert blossom as the rose—always the man.

If she lived! Go by the way of the trail of the gold seekers and know that trail is strewn with the graves of women. There are no monuments. And there are countless tiny graves, long unmarked, where they buried their babes.

And then—Those who survived the ordeal told side by side with their argonauts in gulch and field and cabin. It is a typical fact that the wives of the bonanza mine owners in the days of hardship washed the clothes of the miners in order to grubstake their husbands.

And there were more babies. The pioneer women suffered and toiled and died. Nine out of every ten of the early California miners, so it is stated, married two to three wives, some four or five. It was hard on women in those days.

Could California forget? And so when a newer generation of these women went before the new generation of men and told how their mothers had come to El Dorado in the miners' wagons and asked that women be recognized at the polls it was not in the heart of man to refuse.

Such an appeal could not go unanswered. California honored herself in her fine appreciation of the women in whose laps her civilization was carried across the plains.

Pork Sausage that is made from home grown hogs; we do not buy packing house scraps and trimmings for our sausages.
Hamburg that is made from whole hives slaughtered at home expressly for this meat. We do not have a lot of old meat around to grind up into hamburger, but sell our meats so fast that they do not get a chance to spoil.
These are positively the best meats that money can buy and some of our prices are less than wholesale, but I am doing this in order to have people get a good piece of meat at less than they have been paying for cheap, trashy meat that isn't fit to eat.

PLAIN WORDS TO RICH AND POOR.

Compliments John Wanamaker on Princely Gift.

Pastor Russell, Accompanied by Foreign Missions Investigation Committee, Preaches in Victoria Hall, Madras—Large Audiences Heard Him Twice Yesterday.

PASTOR RUSSELL

Madras, India, Feb. 11.—The "Foreign Missions Investigation Committee" is here. Our finest auditorium, the Victoria Hall, was crowded to hear Pastor Russell. He spoke twice today. We report one of his discourses from the text: "The blessing of the Lord, it maketh rich; and He addeth no sorrow therewith" (Proverbs x, 22). He said:

The thing which strikes me especially as I visit your great city for the first time is the marked contrast between the palaces of your superior quarter and the hovels of Blacktown—the contrast between great riches and great poverty. But think not that I have come to speak words which would engender strife or even discontent. Rather my message is one of peace.

The inequalities, mental and physical, which prevail amongst us as members of a fallen race, produce naturally by our inequalities as respects wealth and social conditions; it is well, therefore, that we should not accept the rabid views entertained by many, but we should think soberly, dispassionately. We should remember that God Himself is very rich. All the gold and silver are His, and the cattle upon a thousand hills, with infinite power, beyond human comprehension.

We should remember that it is written that "Abraham was very rich," and that his riches did not interfere with the fact that he "was the friend of God," and that to him God gave that great promise secured by the Divine call, which is the basis of all hope for the blessing of the world: "In thee and in thy seed shall all the families of the earth be blessed." Other noble characters on the pages of history are noted as having possessed great wealth.

We should therefore view the matter of poverty and riches philosophically. Both poor and rich should be encouraged to use faithfully the opportunities which they possess and to wait patiently for the Lord's time and way for the introduction of the new order of things which He has promised, assured that it is not in our power to hasten or delay the Divine program.

Bible Counsel For the Rich.

The Apostle says: "Charge those amongst you who are rich that they trust not in uncertain riches." The history of centuries corroborates the Apostle's words. The rich and prominent of one day become the poor and forgotten of another. "Riches take wings" in a manner that poverty rarely imitates. The talents and opportunities which have brought great wealth to some of our prominent Americans have brought wealth and prosperity in smaller measure to those associated with them in their enterprises. Indeed, in some respects the entire world, and particularly America, owes them a debt of gratitude for their energy and perseverance in the exercise of their talents along such broad lines.

My mind took this course of reasoning as I looked at the handsome edifices occupied by the Y. M. C. A. of this city, and I was informed that it was the gift of one of our American merchant princes, Mr. John Wanamaker, of New York and Philadelphia. I said to myself, Behold an instance in which riches have been generously expended, even in a far-off land, for the benefit of the masses and with a desire to promote clean and noble manhood along Christian lines.

God's Blessing Maketh Rich.

Our text is an optimized statement of the Gospel of Christ. All God's blessing for our race will come through the Seed of Abraham—The Christ. The giving of His Son to be man's Redeemer and Deliverer from sin and death was God's blessing to man-making man rich. Messiah, having died for the redemption of the world, is about to bestow upon men the Divine blessing promised to Abraham—"In thee and in thy Seed shall all the families of the earth be blessed."

That blessing to the non-elect world will be a glorious opportunity for rising up out of sin and death conditions to full human perfection in the image and likeness of God—our Adam possessed this before his fall. It will mean the bringing of the earth to the conditions pictured in Eden. The earth, God declares, He formed not in vain, but to be inhabited. At present man is in a condition of enmity and separation from his Creator and his earthly home is disordered. God's footstool, for 6,000 years, has been the scene of a terrible reign of sin and death.

The only hope is in Messiah's Kingdom, which God has promised shall be established for the overthrow of Satan, the abolishing of ignorance and superstition, the enlightenment of mankind and the uplift of all the willing and obedient and for the destruction of the wilfully wicked in the Second Death.

LENTEN REGULATIONS.

Archbishop S. G. Messmer has issued the following announcement of Lenten regulations:

1. All Fridays and fast-days during the year are days of abstinence from flesh meat. On Saturdays, which by law are also days of abstinence, flesh meat is allowed by apostolic indulgent in all meals, unless they happen to be fast-days.

2. The following are fast days of obligation: All days of Lent (except Sundays), the Ember-days, the Vigils or Eves of Pentecost, of the Assumption of Blessed Virgin Mary, of All Saints and of Christmas, lastly, the Fridays of Advent.

On fast-days only one full meal a day is allowed to persons obliged to fast. But indulgent custom allow coffee, tea, chocolate with a piece of bread in the morning, and the use of eggs, butter, milk, etc., in the evening. For sufficient reason the collation (dinner) may be taken at noon and the dinner or principal meal in the evening.

During Lent by apostolic indulgent flesh meat is allowed only at the principal meal on week days except all Wednesdays and Fridays and also Saturdays in Ember week (March 2 and Holy week, April 6). On fast-days flesh meat and fish (including oysters, crabs, frogs, turtle, etc.) are never allowed at the same meal, a rule which applies even to the Sundays in Lent and to all persons otherwise excused or dispensed from the law of either abstinence or fast. But meals may be always prepared with the drippings of either fat or lard.

Should the feast of the Nativity (Christmas) and the Circumcision (New Year's), the feast of the Assumption and the Immaculate Conception of the Blessed Virgin Mary, and the feast of All Saints fall upon a day of abstinence or fast, a general dispensation from such abstinence or fast has been granted for such an occurrence by a special order of the Holy Father issued on July 2, 1911. The same holds good for parishes where the feast of the Patron Saint (titular) of the church is observed with solemnity and a large concourse of people.

Persons excused from fast may use flesh meat more than once on the days when it is allowed at all, either in Lent or outside of the season.

3. Catholics having attained the sufficient use of reason are bound by the law of abstinence. But when it is either physically or morally impossible to observe the law, or when "it would entail serious difficulties," they are excused from it.

In virtue of the apostolic faculties granted us by the Holy See we hereby delegate pastors to dispense in each single case, from abstinence, the men actually engaged in threshing as well as the farmer families at whose place threshing is going on.

4. Catholics having completed their twenty-first year of age are bound to fast. But the causes of excuse just mentioned in regard to abstinence apply also to the law of fasting. Hence the church ordinarily exempts from fasting the sick and those in feeble health (whether by sickness or old age); women nursing children; all who are engaged in laborious and exhausting occupations. Persons in doubt, whether they are excused or not, should consult their confessor or pastor for advice or dispensation.

In virtue of an apostolic indulgent we permit working men and their families the use of flesh meat at the principal common meal on all fast days and abstinence days throughout the year, with the exception of all Fridays, Ash Wednesday, the Wednesday and Saturday of Holy week and the Eve of Christmas.

5. Persons excused or dispensed from the law of fast or abstinence ought to perform some other good works of piety and charity in the spirit of Christian penance and sanctification. Hence the pious custom of giving Lenten Alms, "Redeem thou thy sins with alms and thy iniquities with works of mercy," Dan. iv, 24. Also the custom of abstaining from intoxicating drinks, of staying away from theatres, dances, card parties and other profane amusements, etc.

S. G. MESSMER, Archbishop.

N. B.—The collections for Indian and negro missions, the African missions, the Holy Land and the Washington Catholic university will not be taken up this year. The collection for the Holy Father (Peter's Pence) must be announced on the second Sunday of Lent and taken up the following Sunday.

KNIGHTS AND LADIES OF HONOR HOLD A BANQUET

Bower City Lodge, Knights and Ladies of Honor, of this city, held its semi-monthly meeting in its lodge rooms at the East Side Odd Fellows' hall last evening and initiated into the Order a large class of candidates. The initiation was conferred by the local degree team, the secret work of the Order being given the new members by State Manager J. C. Robinson. As the Order was organized in this city just one year ago last night, the social committee had arranged an excellent program and banquet which was much enjoyed by all present. The rooms were beautifully decorated in a most artistic manner with carnations and ferns. The honored guests of the evening were J. C. Robinson, state manager, and John A. Kelly of New York City. After the banquet a flash-light picture was taken of the entire membership present. The party broke up at a late hour, all present regretting very much that the entertainment had come to a close. The social program was as follows:

Address of Welcome, J. C. Freshner
Vocal solo, "Dreams," Miss May Dempsey
Address, "Our Order in Wisconsin," J. C. Robinson
Monologue, "A Day at the Circus," George Dixon
History of Our Lodge, Miss Grace Green
Vocal solo, "Twilight," Miss Olga Zerbel
Greetings from New York Lodges, John A. Kelly
Monologue, "A Hen-pecked Husband," Harold Campbell
My Impressions of the Initiation, Geo. Clark
Closing remarks, Dr. W. H. McGuffee
Star Spangled Banner, sung by all.

COL. GEORGE W. GOETHALS
CANAL CHIEF REPORTS AT WASHINGTON.

New York City.—This new photograph of Col. George W. Goethals, in charge of the world's greatest engineering job, the building of the Panama Canal, was taken as he stepped off the steamer in New York on his way to report conditions to President Taft. He said that considerably over 50 per cent of the canal is finished and that it will surely be opened on January 1, 1915. It will be opened unofficially months before the formal ceremony of opening. It is owing to the great executive capacity of Col. Goethals that the great ditch will be completed before schedule time and within the cost provided by the government. The biggest job just now is in the additional excavations which have been found necessary on account of the big slide during the recent rainy season. It is now dry in Panama and excavations of four acres of land entailing an immense amount of labor are now under way. These excavations are in addition to the work originally contemplated and it is a safeguard against any land slides which might cause trouble in the future.

Overcome Adversity.
The waves which sorrow lashes up around us stand high between us and the world and make our ship solitary in the midst of a haven full of vessels. Cannot one do like the fair sun, and go under the waves and yet come back again. And yet, after all, if you look upon his going down rightly there is no such thing in reality, — Richter.

Extreme of Loneliness.
German proverb: Without a friend the world is a wilderness.

Dear Danced Way to Freedom.
A trained bear and his master were held prisoners at No. 2 police station in Kansas City, Kan., for one hour the other afternoon, Stanley George, a Russian, was putting the bear through a series of dancing stunts at Packard and Kansas avenues when Sergeant Jacob Broadhurst asked to see his license. George had none, and the officer marched him and the bear to the station. "Your bond is five dollars and the bear's is the same," the sergeant explained, through an interpreter. George had only four dollars, which was accepted as his bond. But he wouldn't leave without the bear. Finally he prevailed upon the officers to let the bear do five dollars' worth of dancing for the amusement of the cops as a bond. The bear put on his best tricks and he and his master were allowed to go. — Kansas City Journal.

Give Mother Earth a Rest.
In India there are certain days when it is unwise to plow. Mother Earth is supposed to sleep six days in every month, and on such days she refuses to be disturbed in her slumber.

ON TRIAL IN SENATE.

Washington, D. C.—Organization of the United States senate for the fight over Senator Lorimer's seat is quietly going on. Every indication is that it will be brief and bitter, unmarred by the delays which marked the struggle of last year before he was seated by a vote of 46 to 40. It is only a few weeks away and the special committee has almost finished its work and already the opposing forces are lining up. Senator Lorimer will not lack champions on the floor. The weight of oratory, however, is expected to be unequalled.

Polyglot Surely.
Howitt—"Does your wife know more than one language?" Jowett—"She certainly does; she reads French novels in the original, talks in her sleep in English, discharges the servant in German and converses with a young girl in baby talk."

How it Turned Out.
"I told that dog he was foolish to be courting so many girls." "How did it turn out?" "As you might expect, his expenses were so heavy that he got behind with his board and had to marry his landlady."

Who Said We Couldn't!
"Why can't we appreciate the more generous lines of the elderly woman's figure fully as much as the immature proportions of the girl? Why can't we see that one is really as beautiful as the other?" — Edna, K. Woolley.

The Famous Black Swan Carbide Feed Acetylene Lighting Systems,

For the illumination of stores, residences, halls, opera houses, churches, etc.

A BLACK SWAN Acetylene Lighting System is something you will enjoy every day in the year. There is nothing you can put into your home that can equal or even compare with the comforts you get from a good lighting system.

A BLACK SWAN Lighting System gives you a bright light that costs less than Kerosene.

It is perfectly simple, can be set in the ground, while all other machines are set in the cellar, or have a house built over them in order to take care of the pulleys and ropes. The BLACK SWAN system can be set in a PIT REMOVED FROM ALL BUILDINGS WHICH MAKES IT ABSOLUTELY FREE FROM ALL DANGER OF FIRE OR EXPLOSION. Insurance companies make no extra charge where our system is installed.

Very few moving parts—nothing to get out of order. Small waste, as the used up Carbide, which turns into lime, is considered to be worth about twice as much as barnyard manure for use as fertilizer.

You have fully made up your mind that just as soon as you can get a good serviceable light, to take the place of the old Kerosene lamps, you are going to have it. Here is your chance. Come in and let us show you this SIMPLE, SERVICEABLE, DURABLE apparatus and you will install one in your house.

A GREAT DISCOVERY

Certain Ingredients That Really Promote Hair Growth when Properly Combined.

Resorelin is one of the most effective germ destroyers ever discovered by science, and in connection with Saphol, which is both germicidal and antiseptic, a combination which robs the hair of its natural nourishment, and also creates a clean, healthy condition of the scalp, which prevents the development of new germs.

Micropin, of now known as a coloring matter for dyeing, is a well-known natural color for restoring the hair to its natural color when the loss of hair has been caused by the loss of the scalp.

These ingredients in proper combination, with alcohol added as a stimulant and for its well-defined nourishing properties, perfect perhaps the most effective remedy that is known for scalp and hair troubles.

We have a remedy which is chiefly composed of these ingredients, in combination with other extremely valuable medicinal agents. We guarantee it to positively cure dandruff and to grow hair, even though the scalp is spots is bare of hair. If there is any vitality left in the roots, it will positively cure baldness or we will refund your money. If the scalp has a glazed, shiny appearance, it's an indication that baldness is permanent, but in other instances we believe baldness is curable.

We want every one troubled with scalp disease or loss of hair to try Resorelin "93" Hair Tonic. It does not cure dandruff and grow hair to the satisfaction of the user who will without question or quibble return every cent paid for it. We print this guarantee on every bottle. It has effected a positive cure in 93 per cent. of cases where it was put in practical test.

Resorelin "93" Hair Tonic is entirely reliable, and we think, in every particular, better than anything else we know of for the purpose for which it is prescribed. We urge you to try this preparation at our entire risk. Certainly we know of no better guarantee to give you. Remember, you can obtain Resorelin Remedies in Janesville only at our store—The Rexall Store, The Smith Drug Co., 14 West Milwaukee Street, Janesville, Wis.

CURIOUS BITS OF HISTORY

By A. W. MACY.

WHEN CHINESE WOMEN WENT TO WAR.

About 1850 a Chinaman at Nanking named Hungewstien founded a society which he called "G-d-Worshippers," in opposition to Confucianism, the state religion. It soon came into collision with the imperial authorities, and the uprising became known as the Taping rebellion. The most peculiar thing about it was, the women were as active as the men in the military operations. It is said that a large army of women was raised and formed into brigades of 13,000 women each, with female officers. Of each brigade 10,000 were picked women and drilled in garrison duty. The rest were compelled to do the drudgery, as building breastworks, digging trenches, erecting batteries, etc. The rebels held the city of Nanking till 1854, with Hungewstien, called "the Heavenly King," as ruler. The rebellion was finally suppressed by the imperial authorities, and it had a tragic ending. The "Heavenly King" perished by his own hands amid the blazing ruins of the palace he had occupied for eleven years.

SURPRISE PARTY GIVEN MR. AND MRS. H. SELCK

West Center Family Tendered Farewell Affair by Sixty Friends and Neighbors Friday Evening.

(Special to the Gazette.)

West Center, Feb. 15.—On Friday evening, Feb. 9th, about sixty friends and neighbors of Henry Selck and family gathered at their home to give them a farewell party. It being in the family a surprise, Mrs. Selck had invited a few ladies to a "quitting bee," during the day, who stayed late, in protest that their husbands would come after them later in the evening.

About seven o'clock all came and brought well-laden lunch baskets. At midnight the guests departed, leaving a beautiful flock, as a remembrance, to be taken in the new home of Mr. and Mrs. Selck in Minnesota. They have lived on the same farm for twenty years and will be greatly missed by their many friends. Mr. Selck has lived in the town of Center all his life. As a business man he has won an enviable reputation for honesty and fair dealing. His successor in business has spent his entire life in West Center and is a young man of sterling qualities.

Mrs. Frank Trovorrath and Mrs. John Fraser spent Wednesday with Mrs. Edson Brown.

Friends from this vicinity extend to Mrs. Ira Fisher, their sympathy in the loss of her beloved mother, Mrs. Julia Bailey.

The social given in the school house was well attended and a good time enjoyed by all.

Paul Savage of Cookville visited relatives here Tuesday.

Miss Bennett, nurse at the home of George Miller, will return to her home this week.

Take mother's advice—

"Buy Mex-o-ja from the grocer and grind it at home, as needed."

When you grind your coffee at home you get the most and the best from every pound. The trifle of extra labor in grinding is nothing when compared with the extra goodness gained.

Experience teaches that ground coffee, no matter how ground, or packed by the manufacturer, quickly loses its aroma, strength and fragrance. These are the very qualities which cause you to like coffee, and which contribute so largely to your physical and mental well being.

Coffee is a product of Nature and to get the most and best out of this great gift, you must take "mother's advice"—grind the coffee at home. The so-called newly discovered principles in coffee grinding may read well, but our experience proves "mother's advice" is correct. If you have been buying coffee already ground, take us at our word and make the experiment of comparison. Buy a package of MEX-O-JA from the grocer and grind it yourself. The finished result will convince you that it is the correct and sure way of getting the most and the best out of one of Nature's greatest gifts to man.

Woman Finally Recovers From Nervous Breakdown

Impoverished nerves destroy many people before their time. Often before a sufferer realizes what the trouble is, he is on the verge of a complete nervous breakdown. It is of the utmost importance to keep your nervous system in good condition, as the nerves are the source of all bodily power. Mrs. Anna Kounz, 211 Mechanic St., Pueblo, Colo., says:

"For many years I suffered from nervous prostration; I was unable to do any house work and doctors failed to help me. Remedies I tried from druggists did not do me a particle of good. A neighbor told my husband about and he procured a bottle. After the first few doses I showed a marked improvement and after taking two bottles I was entirely cured. I have been perfectly well for years and cannot praise Dr. Miles' Nervine too highly."

If you are troubled with loss of appetite, poor digestion, weakness, inability to sleep; if you are in a general run down condition and unable to bear your part of the daily grind of life, you need something to strengthen your nerves. You may not realize what is the matter with you, but that is no reason why you should delay treatment.

has proven its value in nervous disorders for thirty years, and merits a trial no matter how many other remedies have failed to help you. Sold by all druggists. If first bottle fails to benefit your money is returned. MILES MEDICAL CO., Elkhart, Ind.

No saying, Mme. Giry took from her sleeve an envelope ready prepared and similarly addressed to that containing the twenty-thousand francs. The managers took it from her. They examined it and saw that it was fastened with seals stained with their own managerial seal. They opened it. It contained twenty bank of St. Paro notes like those which had so much astounded them the month before. "How simple!" said Richard. "How simple!" repeated Moncharmin. And he continued with his eyes fixed upon Mme. Giry, as though trying to hypnotize her.

"So it was the ghost who gave you this envelope and told you to substitute it for the one which we gave you? And it was the ghost who told you to put the other into Mr. Richard's pocket?"

"Yes, it was the ghost." "Then would you mind giving us a specimen of your little talents?" Here is the envelope. Act as though you know nothing."

"As you please, gentlemen." Mme. Giry took the envelope with the twenty notes inside it and made for the door. She was on the point of going out when the two managers rushed at her.

"Oh, no! Oh, no! We're not going to be 'done' a second time! Once bitten, twice shy!"

"I beg your pardon, gentlemen," said the old woman, in self-excus, "you told me to act as though you know nothing. . . . Well, if you know nothing, I should go away with your envelope!"

"And then how would you slip it into my pocket?" argued Richard, whom Moncharmin fixed with his left eye, while keeping his right on Mme. Giry; a proceeding likely to strain his sight, but Moncharmin was prepared to go to any length to discover the truth.

"I am to slip it into your pocket when you least expect it, sir. You know that I always take a little turn behind the scenes, in the course of in order to bow, Richard continued: to do so from prudence, until he the evening, and I often go with my daughter to the ballet-foyer, which I am entitled to do, as her mother; I bring her her shoes, when the ballet is about to begin. . . . In fact, I come and go as I please. . . . The subscribers come and go too. So do you, sir. . . . There are lots of people about. . . . I go behind you and slip the envelope into the tail-pocket of your dress-coat. . . . There's no witchcraft about that!"

"No witchcraft?" growled Richard, rolling his eyes like Jupiter Tonans. "No witchcraft! Why, I've just caught you in a lie, you old witch!" Mme. Giry bristled, with her three teeth sticking out of her mouth.

"And why, may I ask?" "Because I spent that evening watching Box Five and the sham envelope which you put there. I did not go to the ballet-foyer for a second."

"No, sir, and I did not give you the envelope that evening, but at the performance. . . . on the evening when the under-secretary of state for fine arts. . . ."

At these words, M. Richard suddenly interrupted Mme. Giry: "Yes, that's true, I remember now! The under-secretary went behind the scenes. He asked for me. I went down to the ballet-foyer for a moment. I was on the foyer steps. . . . The under-secretary and his chief clerk were in the foyer itself. . . . I suddenly turned around. . . . you had passed behind me, Mme. Giry. . . . You seemed to push against me. . . . Oh, I can see you still, I can see you still!"

"Yes, that's it, sir, that's it. I had just finished my little business. That pocket of yours, sir, is very handy!"

And Mme. Giry once more suited the action to the word. She passed behind M. Richard and, so subtly that Moncharmin himself was impressed by it, slipped the envelope into the pocket of one of the tails of M. Richard's dress-coat.

"Of course!" exclaimed Richard, looking a little pale. "It's very clever of O. G. The problem which he had to solve was this: how to do away with any dangerous intermediary between the man who gives the twenty-thousand francs and the man who receives it. And by far the best thing he could hit upon was to come and take the money from my pocket without my noticing it, as I myself did not know that it was there. It's wonderful!"

"Oh, wonderful, no doubt!" Moncharmin agreed. "Only, you forget, Richard, that I provided ten-thousand francs of the twenty and that nobody put anything in my pocket!"

CHAPTER XVII.

The Safety-Pin Again.

Moncharmin's last phrase so clearly expressed the suspicion in which he now held his partner that it was bound to cause a stormy explanation, at the end of which it was agreed that Richard should yield to all Moncharmin's wishes, with the object of helping him to discover the miscreant who was victimizing them.

This brings us to the interval after the Garden Act, with the strange conduct observed by M. Remy and those curious lapses from the dignity that might be expected of the managers. It was arranged between Richard and Moncharmin, first, that Richard should repeat the exact movements which he had made on the night of the disappearance of the first twenty-thousand francs; and, second, that Moncharmin should not for an instant lose sight of Richard's coat-tail pocket, into which Mme. Giry was to slip the twenty-thousand francs.

M. Richard went and placed himself at the identical spot where he had stood when he bowed to the under-secretary for fine arts. M. Moncharmin took up his position a few steps behind him.

Mme. Giry passed, rubbed up against M. Richard, got rid of her twenty-thousand francs in the manager's coat-tail pocket and disappeared. . . . Or, rather, she was conjured away. In accordance with the instructions received from Moncharmin a few minutes earlier, Merlet took the good lady to the netting-manager's office and turned the key on her, thus making it impossible for her to communicate with her ghost.

Meanwhile, M. Richard was bending and bowing and scraping and walking backward, just as if he had that high and mighty minister, the under-secretary for fine arts, before him. Only, though, those marks of politeness would have created no astonishment if the under-secretary of state had really been in front of M. Richard, they caused an easily comprehensible amazement to the spectators of this very natural but quite inexplicable scene when M. Richard had nobody in front of him.

M. Richard bowed. . . . to nobody; bent his back. . . . before nobody; and walked backward. . . . before nobody. . . . And, a few steps behind him, M. Moncharmin did the same thing that he was doing, in addition to pushing away M. Remy and begging M. de La Borderie, the ambassador and the manager of the Credit Central, "not to touch M. le directeur."

Moncharmin, who had his own ideas, did not want Richard to come to him presently, when the twenty-thousand francs were gone, and say: "Perhaps it was the ambassador. . . . or the manager of the Credit Central. . . . or Remy."

The more so, at the time of the first scene, as Richard himself admitted, Richard had met nobody in that part of the theater after Mme. Giry had brushed up against him. . . . Having begun by walking backward, in order to bow, Richard continued to do so from prudence, until he reached the passage leading to the offices of the management. In this way, he was constantly watched by Moncharmin from behind and himself kept an eye on any one approaching from the front. Once more, this novel method of walking behind the scenes, adopted by the managers of our National Academy of Music, attracted attention; but the managers themselves thought of nothing but their twenty-thousand francs.

On reaching the half-dark passage, Richard said to Moncharmin, in a low voice: "I am sure that nobody has touched me. . . . You had no better keep at some distance from me and watch me till I come to the door of the office; it is better not to arouse suspicion and we can see anything that happens."

But Moncharmin replied, "No, Richard, no! You walk ahead and I'll walk immediately behind you! I won't leave you by a step!"

"But, in that case," exclaimed Richard, "they will never steal our twenty-thousand francs!"

"I should hope not, indeed!" declared Moncharmin.

"Then what we are doing is absurd!"

"We are doing exactly what we did last time. . . . Last time, I joined you as you were leaving the stage and followed close behind you down this passage."

"That's true!" sighed Richard, shaking his head and passively obeying Moncharmin.

Two minutes later, the joint managers looked themselves into their office. Moncharmin himself put the key in his pocket:

"We remained locked up like this, last time," he said, "until you left the opera to go home."

"That's so. No one came and disturbed us, I suppose?"

"No one."

"Then," said Richard, who was trying to collect his memory, "then I must certainly have been robbed on my way home from the opera!"

"No," said Moncharmin in a drier tone than ever, "no, that's impossible. For I dropped you in my cab. The twenty-thousand francs disappeared at your place; there's not a shadow of a doubt about that."

"It's incredible!" protested Richard, "I am sure of one thing, however, and if one of them had done it, he would have disappeared since."

Moncharmin shrugged his shoulders, as though to say that he did not wish to enter into details, and Richard began to think that Moncharmin was treating him in a very insupportable fashion.

"Moncharmin, I've had enough of this!"

"Richard, I've had too much of it!" "Do you dare to suspect me?"

"Yes, of a silly joke."

"One doesn't joke with twenty-thousand francs."

Richard snatched the paper from Moncharmin's hands. Moncharmin stood up, more irritated than ever, and found himself faced by an exasperated Richard, who, crossing his arms on his chest, said: "Look here, I'm thinking of this. I'm thinking of what I might think if, like last time, after my spending the evening alone with you, you brought me home and if, at the moment of parting, I perceived that twenty-thousand francs had disappeared from my coat-pocket. . . . like last time?"

"And what might you think?" asked Moncharmin, crimson with rage.

"I might think that, as you hadn't left me by a foot's breadth and as, by your own wish, you were the only one to approach me, like last time, I might think that, if that twenty-thousand francs was no longer in my pocket, it stood a very good chance of being in yours!"

Golden Text—Repeat ye, for the kingdom of heaven is at hand. Matt. 11:2.

(1) Verses 1-3—Where are the predictions to which Mark here refers? (See Isa. xlii; Mal. iii:1.)

(2) What reason is there to think that Isaiah and Malachi had John the Baptist and Jesus in mind when they wrote the words quoted by Mark?

(3) What difference does it make to the potency and truth of Christ's gospel whether Mark was right or wrong in thinking these prophecies applied specifically to John and Jesus?

(4) Verses 4-8—What did John's baptism stand for?

(5) Show from John's teaching what he meant by repentance.

(6) What difference, if any, was there in their standing with God between John's converts and converts today to Christianity?

(7) Luke 1:1-4—What literary and historic excellence can you point out in verses 1 and 2?

(8) Whose son was John, what relation was he to Jesus and what was there of note about his birth and training?

(9) What are the moral equivalents of valleys filled up, mountains leveled down, crooked roads made straight and rough places smoothed?

(10) When will the prophecy be fulfilled? "All flesh shall see the salvation of God?"

(11) Verses 7-8—Who composed the multitude that came to John to be baptized?

(12) What reason can you give to justify John in using such harsh language to those who came to be baptized?

(13) What effect will any religious ceremony have upon those who are living in sin?

(14) What are the "fruits" of repentance?

(15) If a son persists in living in sin, what will be the result?

Be Cheerful.

"Always be cheerful, because it promotes the health by exhilarating the physical functions, by stimulating the process of respiration, by oxygenizing the blood, by improving nutrition, and by causing the mind to feel confident of success. Charge your mind with feelings of happiness, success, joy and cheer. Remember that the pathway of the soul is not a steady ascent, but a hilly and broken one; and do not become pessimistic, for the pessimist poisons his very blood and darkens the horizon of the sun of joy."—Health Record, London, England.
